

Call for Participation

Joint Workshop “Industry meets research” with focus on Middle and Eastern Europe

FHG IAO Stuttgart, Germany and FH Kärnten (CTI) Villach, Austria
September 28, 2005, 8:30 – 13:30, Villach, Austria

This work shop is designed as a joint work shop on the ICL conference. Invited to take part in are persons who act or are interested in the area of professional learning and are somehow linked to with Middle and Eastern Europe.

Persons wishing to participate in the work shop need to register for free by sending an E-Mail containing name and organisation one is working at. In order to ensure meaningful interaction and networking among all participants, attendance at the work shop will be limited. The attendance to the joint work shop is free.

Aim of the work shop is to bring together industry and research and to identify existing gaps and the requirements of the economy in the area of professional training. The work shop should furthermore serve as a platform for the an effective exchange between industry and research.

Benefits to participate and contribute to the workshop

- New connections can be established and considerations of joint R&D activities can be made
- Free access to the PROLEARN community
- Initiate and enhance exchange between research and economy

We would like to ask all participants to upload this call for participation on their homepages in order to widspread the information.

If you should have further questions please don't hesitate to contact us.

Kindest regards,
Alexander Karapidis
Till Becker

Alexander Karapidis
Fraunhofer Institut Arbeitswirtschaft und Organisation (IAO)
Nobelstrasse 12
D-70569 Stuttgart
Telephone +49 (0)711 /970 - 2019, 2051
Fax +49 (0)711 /970 - 2299
Alexander.Karapidis@iao.fraunhofer.de
<http://www.iao.fraunhofer.de>